“ Pour le pire ou le meilleur, l'Inde incarne ce que la planète sera demain. Allons visiter le meilleur. ”

BÉNÉDICTE MANIER
MADE IN INDIA

Face à la catastrophe écologique, nous nous montrons souvent fatalistes. Pourtant, quelque part loin d'ici, un autre avenir s'invente. En Inde, une société civile ingénieuse apporte chaque jour de nouvelles solutions à l'un des pays les plus pollués du monde : reboisement collectif, zones zéro déchet, villages éclairés au solaire, déserts transformés en oasis d'agriculture durable... Une écologie au sens large, qui bénéficie autant au milieu qu'aux êtres humains. Des solutions simples, transposables au monde entier. Bénédicte Manier nous emmène à la rencontre de ces artisans de demain. Ils font de l'Inde un laboratoire écologique grandeur nature où, sur fond d'industrialisation accélérée, se dessine un enjeu planétaire : trouver un mode de développement résilient.

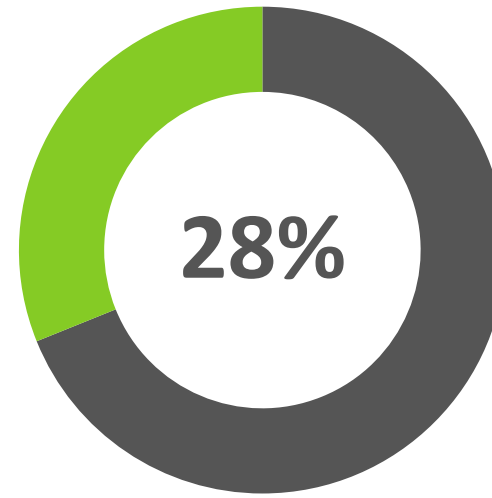

Journaliste, Bénédicte Manier parcourt l'Inde depuis plus de vingt ans. Elle est l'auteure du livre à succès Un million de révolutions tranquilles (LLL, 2012, prix du livre de l'Environnement 2010), mais aussi de L'Inde nouvelle s'implante (LLL, 2014) et Quand les femmes auront disparu : l'élimination des filles en Inde et en Asie (La Découverte, 2<sup>e</sup> éd. 2008).
